The famous tonic, is a household remedy. It makes strong men, healthful women, vigorous children. Get the Genuine.

The Old and the New Way.

We are frequently asked, "How can you afford to make such big reductions on your shoes?" We simply answer that it will all come back in the increase in the volume of our sales. We have been told, "People don't appreciate the difference in your present prices and your former prices." We know that that is a mistaken idea, for on account of our reductions we have already gained many new customers, and are convinced that it will bring a steady increase in our business. A saving of a quarter on this pair of shoes, a half dollar on that pair, and as much as a dollar on some of our shoes, may be a trifle to some people, but the great majority will prefer to save it. We believe in the new system of increased sales based on smaller per cent.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Cleveland Answers Letters and Harrison Doesn't.

From the Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal-Avalanche.

The difference between Cleveland and Harrison is this: Cleveland responds to those who courteously address him and Harrison does not. There is the same difference between a gentleman and a boor.

Defining the Limits of the Third Party Movement.

From the New Orleans (La.) Times-Democrat.

As long as the Alliance does not endanger white supremacy, it may play an important part in Southern politics, but the moment it results in giving the State, not government pawnshops but negro rule, it will have to get out of the way for the Democracy.

Things That Won't Appear in Mr. Harrison's Letter.

From the Williamsport (Pa.) Sun.

President Harrison is still engaged in writing his letter of acceptance. It is probable that he has difficulty in finding language strong enough to denounce the shortcomings of Pension Commissioner Raum, the political dishonesty of Dudley, the venality of Judge Wood, the offensive partisanship of Census Taker Porter and the insolence of his office holders. Perhaps.

Tennessee Humiliated by an Incompetent Governor.

From the Chattanooga (Tenn.) Times.

A reckless, unscrupulous, weak, narrow politician in the governor's office is, in quiet times, a bad enough situation, but when such a creature is both governor and a self-nominated candidate for re-election the situation must be appalling to all good citizens if trouble such as now confronts the commonwealth breaks forth in the form of riot and spreads over whole counties and sections of the State. Poor old Tennessee.

Party Differences in Campaign Management and Method.

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Democratic campaign will be supported by the free contribution of plain people. The Republican campaign will be maintained through the forced contributions of favored millionaires and office-holders. The difference represents the attitude of the two parties. One campaign is for the return to just government for all the people; the other is for the continuance of spoils government for plutocrats and official leeches. The people should get together on such an issue.

Useless to Talk of Southern Divisions on National Issues.

From the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

It is useless to talk about division in the South on national issues. We may differ as we please about the details of administrative policy; we may approve free trade or object to it; we may favor State banks or oppose them; we may be for free coinage or against it; but in the face of the overshadowing importance of the force bill issue and the danger of negro domination the South cannot afford to fall apart or to divide. Nobody knows this better than the farmers. They have had and they are having their little Third party recreation; they are kicking up their heels in a strange barley patch; but when the proper time arrives they will fall promptly into line and renew and strengthen the organization which stands for white supremacy.
